About PAH Solapur University

Punyashlok Ahilyadevi Holkar Solapur University (PAHSU), Solapur, established in 2004, is a progressive state public university committed to academic excellence, research, and community engagement. The University functions through a well-structured school system, including Schools of Social Sciences, Computational Sciences, Chemical Sciences, Earth Sciences, Physical Sciences, Life Sciences, Commerce and Management, and Technology, offering quality undergraduate, postgraduate, and doctoral programs. The University has jurisdiction over more than 110 affiliated colleges across Solapur district, catering to diverse academic and professional aspirations. Research is a core focus, supported by recognized research centres, research chairs, interdisciplinary projects, and funding from national agencies. The University actively promotes innovation and entrepreneurship through its Innovation and Incubation Centre and runs 147 Skill based courses under Skill Development Centre aligned with national education and employability goals. PAHSU places equal emphasis on sports, cultural activities, NSS, and extension programs, nurturing holistic student development and social responsibility. The University campus is being developed as a green and eco-friendly campus, promoting sustainability and environmental consciousness. Through community outreach programs, PAHSU addresses regional socio-economic and educational needs. The University is accredited by NAAC, by B ++ grade reflecting its commitment to quality assurance, academic governance, and continuous institutional improvement.

SAPDJ Pathashala

“The doyen of Jain Community, Shri Seth Hirachand Nemchand in his assiduous endeavour to serve society established “Shri Aillak Pannalal Digambar Jain Pathashala”(S.A.P.D.J.P.) in the year 1885. Originally started with the object of imparting religious education to students, the trust gradually moved in to the field of general education and established high schools. Shri Aillak Pannalal Digambar Jain Pathashala, Solapur has been working in the interest of the society since its establishment in the year 1885. It is one of the rare institutions with a glorious history of one hundred and twenty-five years. The Pathashala witnesses its growth and development under the all-round supervision of the pioneer of the Indian industries and the epitome of Services to society, Shriman Sheth Walchand and Sheth Lalchand. Ours has been an Institution with the Panchasutri of knowledge, Character, Love, Service and Management for strengthening liberty, equality and brotherhood in the society. In its 75th year the trust started a multi disciplinary institution under the name “Solapur College of Arts, Science and Commerce”. Since then the trust has spread its wings far and wide. The trust is ingrained with the dual objective of promoting “Shramana Culture” and protecting educational culture.

About HNCC-BBA
